Handmade Food by Mrs Hood

Mr and Mrs Hood had a cool house by the sea. Mr Hood was a fisherman. When he was away on a fishing trip, Mrs Hood would get bored. “I need a job,” she said to herself. “I like to look at books, I could sell books in the bookshop.” She went to the bookshop to ask for a job, but they said, “No.”

“This is no good,” Mrs Hood said to herself, “What else could I do?” Mrs Hood sat and had a good long think and then she said, “I like to cook. I could bake and sell food from home.” She put a poster up on the gate that said, Handmade Food by Mrs Hood. Within hours, Mrs Hood sold everything that she had made.
