

Homophones – Tick the correct use of the words

Both of you're children are great in class.

Both of your children are great in class.

Both of you are children are great in class.

You will find you're star chart behind the door.

You will find your star chart behind the door.

You will find you are star chart behind the door.

Can you share half of your money with your sister?

Can you share half of you're money with you're sister?

Can you share half of your money with you're sister?

Could you move you're clothes off the floor after break?

Could you move your clothes off the floor after break?

You will find you are moneybox behind the door.

“I will show you that I can use your and you're!”

---

---

